In other words "second growth." If the frost holds off a week or two longer Mr. Steidley says he will have quite a lot of these potatoes.

The fall opening of the Lopez Store last Saturday was the unequalled success that attends every effort of the big store. The place was thronged all day long and the praise bestowed on Manager Ringo and his associates was most generous. An attractive and useful cream pitcher was given to each visitor as a souvenir of the occasion.

The REGISTER made an error last week in giving the date of the Zude-Johnson wedding to be solemnized in the Lutheran church, Pilot Knob. The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, October 14th, not October 7th, as stated last week. All who wish to witness the ceremony at the church will be welcome, whether they have received an invitation or not.

Probably a thousand cords of wood in the neighborhood of Bixby and Doyle, in the West End of Iron County, belonging to the Sligo Furnace Company, have been destroyed by fire the past week or two. The fire was thought to be of incendiary origin, and, notwithstanding the Company has a number of watchmen employed, much wood has been burned.

Only about three hours were consumed in making the trip to Des Arc and it was made without a mishap of any nature. We certainly are pleased that our Arcadia neighbors are keeping the electric lights on the streets; they realize it is a good thing. But why not include the light on the bridge between Iron County and Arcadia? Our lights in Iron County will probably extend to those of Arcadia in the near future. The lights are as great an improvement to Arcadia as the granitoid walks are to Iron County.

Col. R. D. Lewis was a Valley visitor last week. He tells us that they had a pleasant time in New Hampshire during their sojourn there this summer, but says that far-famed section had no advantage that the valley does not possess as a summer resort. Mr. Lewis' son has gone to Cornell University for the coming year and his daughter has matriculated at Knox Seminary in Tarrytown.

Frank Thompson, superintendent of the company that is operating the Mine La Motte mines, this week purchased 100 acres of land from N. B. Graham off the east side of his farm adjoining Fredericktown. This land adjoins a tract of land that Mr. Thompson bought some time ago and it is believed by some that it is being bought for mining purposes. It is also rumored that his company will lease and operate the North American plant. And that the Bonne Terre railroad will be extended from Doe Run through Mine La Motte and to the North American.—Fredericktown Tribune.

G. B. Cook, Deputy Pure Food Commissioner, has taken up the matter of the sale of dirty ice here and a prosecution of the Carondelet Ice and Fuel Mfg. Co., of St. Louis, will probably be the next step taken. S. L. McFarland is the local dealer and he is very much put out over his failure to give his customers good ice. The last two cars received have been so dirty that he didn't attempt to sell them. Apparently the ice is made of plain old river water, and liberal quantities of mud are to be seen in every cake. Mr. Cook will immediately take the matter up and push the thing until the wrong is remedied.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

Mr. R. P. Hornsey tells that last Sunday, September 27th, was the fiftieth anniversary of General Price's raid through Potosi, that is, the advance army under General Shelby made its appearance here on that date and rolled its artillery down High street to bombard the court house. He adds, "I can see in my mind's eye the red dust fly from the bricks of the old court house as the shells struck it, and the miserable whine of the missiles as they passed through the air like a seemingly haunted me ever since." Mr. Hornsey was a lad of 13 at that time and says he remembers well that there was an endless march of soldiers through Potosi for two or three weeks as Price's army made its way north.—Potosi Journal.

Last Thursday evening, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, the ladies of the Valley had their innings at The Style Shop, and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the spread of style and fashion which gladdened their eyes. The occasion was the Autumn Opening at Mrs. Woodside's Millinery Parlors. The rooms were tastefully decorated and the display they contained gave them the semblance of a scene in a fairyland. Color was everywhere glowing under the electric lights, artfully sustained and modified by tint and shade, less pronounced but grateful to the sense of vision. I cannot specify and may not attempt to particularize—it takes the feminine mind to do that. It therefore suffices for me to say that this Opening was fit successor to those gone before—all ways attractive in fabric, style and art. On this occasion music lent its aid to the enjoyment of those present, and when the parting hour came the fair assemblage were generous in felicitating expressions concerning it.

At the meeting of the City Council Monday evening the plans and specifications for the street improvement, prepared by Mr. A. V. Polak, were accepted, and bids for doing the work are advertised for in this week's REGISTER. The street work is to be done with chat from the dumps at Pilot Knob. It is proposed to rebuild Main Street from Knob Creek to Stout's Creek and Russell Street, in South Iron County, from Knob Street west to the Goulding Hill. If there are any funds left after this work is done then other streets will be considered. The stone work on the street is to be twenty feet wide, the center of the street to be ten inches higher than the sides and the gutters to be 18 inches lower than the crown. The council made an order putting in another electric light on Main Street between Dr. Marshall's home and the bridge across Stout's Creek, and another in front of the Pruitt residence on Shepherd Street. Mayor Rasche appointed W. W. Reese as Councilman from the north ward to succeed Frank R. Hotson, removed to Illinois. The next meeting of the Council will be held October 22d when the bids for street building will be considered.

A special freight train carrying seventeen cars of fine horses pulled into Poplar Bluff at 9:25 this morning on the Iron Mountain from Fort Worth, Texas. There were 340 horses in the cars, and the train was on its way to Toronto, Canada. The horses were bought in Texas by a representative of the English government and will be shipped to England from Toronto just as soon as they reach that point, which will probably be some time Thursday. The train left at 9:40 A. M. over the Cat for Illinois, and it is expected that the special will arrive in St. Louis some time tonight. A little Canadian, communicative as the Sphinx of Egypt, was in charge of the horses. He knew that they were horses, and that he was on the way to Toronto with them, and that he had left Fort Worth, Texas, in charge of them at six o'clock Sunday evening. If the Canadian knew any more than that he did not say so, although it was learned from other sources that they were going to be shipped to Liverpool, and that a great many more were going that way, having been purchased in Texas. This train was the first of several that will pass through Poplar Bluff with horses which will in all likelihood be used in the European war.—Poplar Bluff Republican.

Leon W. Quick, who was appointed receiver for the Bankers' Trust Company last Tuesday, made a report yesterday to Circuit Judge McQuillin, stating that the books of the company show direct liabilities of $1,336,740.97, with $789.06 cash in hand, which has been seized by the United States Internal Revenue Collector, and therefore not available for use. The report states that it is shown by a necessarily superficial and hurried examination of the files of the company, made on account of letters coming to the attention of the receiver and copies of letters guaranteeing the payment of notes placed by the company with certain banks, that the direct liability of the company will be greatly increased if the transactions mentioned in the letters are regular and valid. The receiver for lack of further information expresses no opinion as to what the situation referred to in the letters is. The report also states: "The sworn returns of the company under the income tax law for the year 1913 show an earning based upon an increase in the book value of the assets of the company, and upon the earnings so derived an assessment of $8,378.78 income tax was made against the company and in default of the payment thereof the furniture and moneys of the company were seized by the Internal Revenue Collector. I am of the opinion that the earnings so reported are entirely fictitious and that a correct return based upon only actual earnings would have shown a loss and no liability for income tax in any amount."—St. Louis Republic.

Autumn in the White River Country
Each of the seasons have their peculiarly pleasing features, but an autumn day in the White River Country possesses for the Nature-lover an almost irresistible charm. When the leaves on all the hills turn into flame, and the air gets that wood-smoky, leaf-spiry, exhilarating tang, the White River Country is a fit place for angels, let alone human beings. The sports of fishing and hunting are at their best. A float trip down the James and White Rivers in the Fall season offers one of the most delightful outings it is possible to imagine. The Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain has issued a folder that describes this float in detail. Whether you think of taking a few days off or not this folder will interest you. Ask the local agent for copy or write to J. G. Hollenbeck, General Passenger Agent, St. Louis.—Adv.

School Notes.

The High School spent a very pleasant hour last Friday afternoon when the Junior Class rendered their program which had been kept in strict secrecy until the appointed hour. The audience was anxiously waiting, when the Class President announced that they would represent the September issue of the Junior Monthly, then proceeded to read the Table of Contents, which was Cover Design, illustrated after the manner of Howard Chandler Christy, Editorial Page, papers on Progress of our School, "Purpose of Magazine" and "The War." "In the Public Eye"—Illustrated by Mrs. Pankhurst, Kaiser William and School Teacher; Story; Poem—by member of class; "Under the Spreading Coconut Tree"; Hints from Paris, which completed the program.

The ladies of the Mother's Club decided to buy a High School record book which is for the purpose of keeping record of the students' work during the four years. They also decided to pay half on the price of our new piano and half for the new drinking fountains.

The Mother's Club will give a short musical program Wednesday afternoon, October 7, at 3:30 o'clock.

The pupils of the 5th and 6th grades having organized a Literary Society under the direction of their teacher, Miss Vaughn, will probably give a program once a week.

For punctuality the Iron County schools have made an unusually good record during the first month of school. No tardies in the 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades and High School.

Among the grades the students of Mr. Hanson's room won the distinction of having the highest percentage of attendance which was 97.7 per cent.

Of the four classes in High School, the Juniors maintained the highest per cent of attendance for the month.

"Lucille Love" every Friday night beginning October 9th.

Bond—Tetwiler.

Last Thursday I attended the wedding which forms the subject of the following, taken from the Poplar Bluff Republican of that date. It is an elaborate and comprehensive account of "the day of all days" to two hearts, and leaves no detail for me to supply. However it is not out of place for us who have known the bride and groom all their lives, to attest to their deserving and to wish to them all the good the favoring gods may have in store for them. Mr. Bond is a young man of sterling integrity and laudable ambition, proud of and devoted to his profession; his chosen mate is a lovable, attractive woman—one to adorn and bless the home. She will be a true helpmate to him as he is entrusted with her future. My heart ever goes out to the young essaying the battle of life, and in this instance no foreboding of evil shadows the brightness of their life's morning. My prayer is that their noon and evening may be of peace and happiness; that worth and honor and the fruition of their hopes may crown their existence now in earnest begun.

Following is the Republican's account:

Miss Kate Tetwiler and Dr. Franco Gales Bond, two of Poplar Bluff's best known and most popular young people, were united in marriage at high noon today. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only relatives and a few very close friends being present. Rev. E. W. Behner, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

After the singing by Miss Pauline Myers Harrington of the famous love song "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from the opera "Samson and Delilah," the bridal party passed to an altar banked with ferns, carnations and ivy, where the simple Episcopal service was read. Claude Marshall acted as best man, while Miss Elizabeth Tetwiler, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bride was given away by her father, C. W. Tetwiler.

After the marriage ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to about thirty guests. Mrs. Joseph Dyas acting as hostess. Later the bride and groom were accompanied to the Iron Mountain station, from where they left for Galveston, Tex., on an extended honeymoon. Before their return, they will visit for several days at Iron County, Mo., with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bond, parents of the groom.

The Tetwiler residence was beautiful in simple but artistic decorations. Ferns, ivy, carnations and Killarney roses were banked on every hand. The guest tables were decorated in flowers, while the bridal party table was a mass of roses.

Members of the bridal party were dressed in elaborate costumes. The bride wore a taupe broadcloth traveling suit, and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Miss Elizabeth Tetwiler, the maid of honor, was clad in Blue Dresden silk with white lace, and also carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Miss Pauline Myers Harrington wore an elaborate costume of blue satin, covered with princess lace. Miss Lucy Horton, who accompanied her solo, wore a blue crepe meteor costume, draped with Dresden silk and lace.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Mr. Bond was presented with a handsome check by his father, while the groom's mother presented the couple with a beautiful imported Japanese embroidered table cover and a set of napkins, which were used on the bridal table.

The bride has been a resident of Poplar Bluff practically all her life, and is one of the city's most popular and best loved young ladies. During her residence here she has been actively identified with church work, besides being prominent in society circles.

Dr. Bond is a native of Kansas, but has lived for the greater part of his life in Iron County, Mo. He is a graduate of Ensworth Medical College of St. Joseph, and has taken a post graduate course at St. Louis University. During the last few months he established offices in Poplar Bluff, and is already considered one of the most brilliant young physicians in this part of the state.

Among the out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. Eli Ake of Iron County, Mo., a great uncle of the bride; Mrs. Frank Ake of Iron County, and Mrs. Dunham of Neelyville, a cousin of Dr. Bond, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bond, of Iron County, the groom's parents.
